Charles Bateman, a resident of Minnesota, who lives on Georgia avenue southeast, hired a rig from G. Geary, a liverman, Saturday night, and failed to return the outfit. Mr. Geary called all day Sunday for his missing team and notified the police, who also looked for the lost rig. Policeman David Crouch, of the Anacostia police force, arrested Bateman, but the young man declared that he knew nothing more concerning the affair than that he had rented the rig to his friend Speedon to return to the stable. Speedon was found Sunday night and said that he had returned the outfit to Johnson's stable, on E street southeast, supposing that it had been hired at that place. Mr. Geary went to the latter place Sunday night and recovered his team. Bateman and Speedon were released.

The rainstorm that swept over Anacostia Wednesday afternoon did but slight damage. The streets were littered with broken limbs and branches and two large trees were blown down east of the Arthur street bridge. Another on Lincoln street. A quantity of window glass was broken at 122 Pierce street, and many sign boards along the thoroughfares were torn from their places and knocked about. The roads leading out of Anacostia are in a deplorable condition as a result of the storm, and many washouts have been reported.

Death of James T. Branson.

The entire community mourns the death of James T. Branson, who died at his home Friday morning. Mr. Branson was a retired policeman, 47 years of age, and during his twenty-five years' service on the police force won the highest esteem of all with whom he came in contact. He was a mounted officer during the latter part of his service and did duty in Anacostia.

Mr. Branson's funeral was held Sunday morning from St. Teresa's church, corner Washington and Fillmore streets, where requiem mass was offered by the Rev. Martin P. Egan, the assistant pastor. The pallbearers who were chosen from among the members of the Anacostia police force, were: Harry Branch, No. 59, Catholic Knights of America, were Officers T. A. Lusby, A. W. Green, and J. W. McCormick, and John F. Reagan, John Madigan, and Bryan Rowney. The deceased officer's horse was led before the funeral procession to the cemetery. Interment was in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Miss Shirner was accompanied to Chevy Chase to visit a friend in the afternoon by her brother. They returned about 7:30 to find the home darkened and apparently deserted. The door was unlocked, and the gas, when to her complete amazement she saw the room full of her boy and girl friends. After a hearty laugh over her surprise, games were started and at 10 o'clock supper was announced.

The room was beautifully decorated with flowers, and hung in the colors of the school which the young ladies attended last winter. Those present were Miss Hazel Shirner, Miss Ethel Shirner, Miss Emma Goodman, Miss Margaret Keebley, Miss Frances E. Smith, Miss Anna Smith, Miss Martha Glenn, Frank Shirner, George Shirner, Edward Potts, Raymond Toole, Ernest Keebley, Frank Goodman, Edmund Carish, and Mr. and Mrs. Shirner.

A notable meeting of the Anacostia Farmers' Club was held Saturday evening at the home of Luther Brashears. Alfred S. Bryan, of Baltimore, who for ten years was commander of one of the State oyster police boats, and who, having been engaged many years in oyster gathering and shipping, is perhaps more conversant with the condition of the oyster industry of the State than any other person, made an exhaustive address in favor of the passage of the Haman oyster bill. He made it plain why the bill should be enacted into law and also why no support of the bill could be expected from the tide-water counties, and why on the contrary it was necessary to ask the support of the non-oyster producing counties. His address he said was a part of the campaign of education necessary for the procurement of the law.

After a full discussion the club passed a resolution expressing its appreciation of the Legislature from this county to vote for the bill. The club also passed a strong resolution condemning the action of the county road commissioners in spending two-thirds of the appropriation on the Marlboro turnpike.

The Hyattsville citizens' road committee held a session Thursday evening to consider the advisability of calling a mass meeting to protest against the award made by two of the three members of the county road commissioners of $15,000 for work to be done on the Marlboro turnpike, leaving nothing to the citizens of Hyattsville and Baltimore turnpike, which is the most traveled of the three roads agreed upon as the recipient of the State aid, and to take such action as may be necessary to defeat the award.

There were also present, by invitation, representatives of the citizens of Hyattsville and Vanville districts. After several hours' discussion it was the unanimous opinion that the contract entered into with Lyon Brothers was not only vicious, but illegal, and that there was every reason to believe that the court would set it aside. It was also the opinion that the expenditure of the money at the end of the county demanded a vigorous fight against the injustice. For this purpose it was decided to call a meeting of the citizens of Hyattsville, Bladensburg, Kent, Vanville and Laurel districts to be held at the Masonic Hall, Hyattsville, Thursday evening, July 27.
